

BUFFALO STATE
The State University of New York

Buffalo State's Exceptional Education Department is offering a new Students with Disabilities (SWD) Middle Childhood Course!

Courses Offered:

EXE 389: Foundations of Teaching Middle School Students with Disabilities (Undergraduate)

EXE 594: Foundations of Teaching Middle School Students with Disabilities (Graduate)

Course Description:

Focus on adaptations and instructional procedures necessary for effective instruction of middle school students with disabilities in a variety of academic and social settings. It is recommended for all education majors pursuing middle school level instruction and teaching certification. Three (3) credit hours.

Registration for Buffalo State students:

https://banner.buffalostate.edu/pls/PROD/twbkwbis.P_GenMenu?name=homepage or scan the QR code!

Registration for non-degree or non-Buffalo State students:

<https://admissions.buffalostate.edu/nondegree> or scan the QR code!

Course Information:

- Offered 100% online
- Summer Session runs from May 28 to August 9, 2019
- Registration begins April 3, 2019
- Open to Buffalo State students who are matriculated and non-Buffalo State students for summer, for non-degree coursework
- We will do our best to accommodate all interested students; if the course appears full, please add your name to our waiting list.

EXCEPTIONAL EDUCATION
DEPARTMENT